CYCLONES IN THREE STATES KILL THIRTY-ONE PERSONS; BABY CARRIED MILE UNHURT

Steeple of Church Falls Through Roof Killing Priest; Loss of Property In Widespread Ohio Storm Exceeds Million

MANY CITIES WRECKED IN MISSOURI STORM; 26 DEAD

Kansas City, June 16.—Twenty-six persons are known to have been killed and many injured by a storm that passed over central west Missouri late Saturday, demolishing buildings, tearing down wires and leaving the smaller towns and country homes completely wrecked.

From meager reports that have been received it is said that the storm that struck Kansas City late yesterday causing the death of two persons and doing damage amounting to many thousands of dollars swept to the south through Bates county, where it left a trail of death and destruction. The path of the storm was half a mile wide. Between Merwin and Adrian nineteen persons were killed.

More Reported Dead.
At Creighton, in Cass county, two are known to be dead, while at Leeton, in Johnson county, two are dead and unverified reports say others have been killed.

After striking Merwin, the storm took a northwesterly course, passing Sedalia, where the wind did much damage.

The dead.
Between Merwin and Adrian—Henry Cameron and three children; Gibson, Groves, Fred Groves, Frank Corey, Mrs. Frank Corey, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Howell, Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Albert Corri and baby, Mrs. Alexander and three children, and Mrs. George Reed, an unidentified Greek.

At Montgomery, Mo.—Mrs. Ellsworth Clark.

At Creighton, Mo.—Mrs. Lee Parker and — Stevens.
At Leeton—Dan Carlow and wife.

At Kansas City—Hern Gray. Max Spitzkofsky died today in a hospital.

In the country between Merwin and Adrian the storm came up suddenly and swept clean its path through the northern section of the county.

Wind Carries Baby Mile.
When Henry Cameron and three of his children were killed the wind picked up another child and carried it away. The baby was found a mile from home uninjured. The body of Gibson and that of Fred Groves were found more than a mile from their home where they were when the storm struck. In another place the storm, stopping over a farm, killed fifty head of livestock but did no other damage.

Throughout the stricken district wires are down and communication is carried on by messengers.

Rides Into Barn as Cyclone Blows It Down, Killing Him

Claremore, Okla., June 16.—Two men were killed and several buildings and a large number of trees destroyed late last night by a severe rain, wind and electrical storm which was general over the county. Barney Green of Tulsa was killed by his barn blowing down on him just as he was riding in, and Robert Lemon of Verdigris was struck by lightning, dying instantly. It is reported that Collinsville had many buildings blown down.

Stores were flooded and trees and outbuildings destroyed all over Claremore. Nobody was injured here but it is feared that more fatalities may have resulted over the country. Great damage was done to the fields of growing oats, wheat and corn by the storm.

HUNDREDS MADE HOMELESS.
Damage Done By Storm Estimated at More Than Million.

Columbus, Ohio, June 16.—A wind storm almost attaining the proportions of a cyclone swept the central portion of the state today, causing three deaths, rendering hundreds homeless and doing monetary damage estimated at more than a million dollars.

The storm spent its greatest force at Zanesville. The telegraph and telephone companies were the largest sufferers. Division headquarters here report hundreds of poles were snapped off and that many miles of wire were torn down.

RIGHT ARRESTED FOR SHOOTING IN STREET CAR
By The Associated Press.

Chicago, June 16.—Eight men now are under arrest in connection with a shooting in a darkened street car last night, when three men were shot and seriously wounded. Investigation by the police today confirmed early rumors that the shooting was due to trouble between non-union newspaper wagon drivers and union news boys.

CYCLONE KILLS THREE IN A CHURCH

Score Injured and Hundreds of Houses Blown Down at Zanesville, Ohio.

Zanesville, Ohio, June 16.—Three were killed and a score more injured early today when a cyclone struck here, toppling the steeple of the St. Thomas Catholic church through the roof while services were being held.

The Rev. F. R. Roach was struck and killed while administering the last sacrament as 500 of the congregation were fleeing.

The Rev. F. R. Roach, Thomas Skinion, head crushed by falling steeple.
John F. Dinan, crushed, died two hours later in a hospital.

Father Roach met death while administering the last sacrament to Skinion, after he had directed the panic-stricken worshippers to leave by a rear door. The storm cut a swath a block wide through the town. No lives were lost outside of the city limits, it is believed.

More than 500 houses were badly damaged and fifty families rendered homeless. Over 2000 shade trees were blown down.

Bryan as Reporter Interviews G. O. P Big Bugs at Chicago

Chicago, June 16.—Wm. J. Bryan was a center of attraction in the pre-convention scene today and though appearing at the headquarters of leaders of a rival party as a newspaper reporter, was given a demonstration by the throng of visitors and delegates.

Mr. Bryan had a personal chat with Theodore Roosevelt late in the day after he had interviewed Senator Dixon, the Roosevelt campaign director and Managing Director McKinley of the Taft bureau.

As he entered the hotel lobby following his way through the crowd, some one shouted: "Hurrah for Wm. J. Bryan." He was cheered for several minutes and continuous cries of "speech, speech," came from all parts of the lobby. Mr. Bryan waved his hand to the crowd and remarked to those near him that he had come "merely as a newspaper reporter," and not seeking presidential nomination at a republican convention.

"I came to see your steam roller," said Mr. Bryan as he shook hands with Congressman McKinley. "Is it anywhere in sight?"

"No, we have laid it aside," said Mr. McKinley, "but would be glad to lend it to you if you like to have it at Baltimore."

"Oh, no, democrats don't need it," Mr. Bryan laughingly responded. "We are going to hold a model convention."

SAYS JOHNSON'S CHEST EXPANSION BELOW STANDARD
By The Associated Press.
Fast Las Vegas, N. M., June 15.—A careful examination of Jack Johnson shows his chest expansion is not up to standard and would lead one to fear lack of endurance.

This is part of a statement issued by a local physician after he made an examination today of the heavyweight champion.

After examining Elyan the physician said:

"I regard Jim Flynn as a remarkable specimen of physical development."

CREDIT FOR CHINESE REPUBLIC IS AMERICA'S

Madison, Wis., June 16.—Credit on blame, which ever time shall attach for the formation of the new Chinese republic must be given to America and especially to its great men of history and to its great schools. TAFT MEN WON'T MENTION PAYNE TARRIFF BILL

WILL ENDORSE BOARD AND URGES REVISION; MAKE NO PROMISE OF REDUCTION.

Progressives Prepare Direct Legislation Planks; to be Silent on Administration.

Chicago, June 16.—Both the Taft and Roosevelt drafts of a platform for the republican convention have been outlined and both can be put quickly in shape for submission to the committee on resolutions. Most of the work on the Roosevelt declarations was completed prior to Mr. Roosevelt's arrival in Chicago while the first formal meeting over the Taft pronouncement was held today.

The Roosevelt pronouncement is the result of labors of principally his former secretary of the interior, Jas. H. Garfield, Gifford Pinchot and Wm. Allen White of Kansas. The plan has undergone the inspection of Col. Roosevelt himself and while he has not passed on them finally he has indicated approval of most of them.

Taft Planks Discussed.
At today's meeting of Mr. Taft's friends several drafts were presented and the meeting was largely for the purpose of selecting from the wealth of matter presented. The approval planks will be joined together and another meeting will be held prior to the submission of the paper to the resolutions committee. Today's conference was held in Senator Crane's apartments. Among the others attending were President Taft's secretary, C. D. Hille, Representative McKinley, President Taft's campaign manager, former Vice-President Fairbanks, who will be chairman of the platform committee; Senator Elihu Root, Chas. Hopkins Clark of Connecticut; Nicholas Murray Butler and Wm. Barnes, Jr., of New York.

Necessarily the two documents cover the same ground but there is wide divergence in the recommendations.

The tariff takes a prominent place in both and both endorse the tariff commission.

Friends of Col. Roosevelt, however, seek to make it apparent that tariff board doesn't come up to the requirements. They would have the commission determine not only the cost of the production of manufactured articles, but would have it undertake to ascertain the share of profits going to labor.

"Revision Up."
The Taftites declare for further revision but would have it wait upon the investigations of the tariff

MANY DIE WHEN A CLOUDBURST FLOODS CITY

GUANAJUATO, MEXICO, INUNDATED WITH SEVERAL FEET OF WATER—MUCH LOSS.

How Many Lives Lost Not Known, as Many Have Been Carried Down Valley.

By The Associated Press.

Guanajuato, Mex., June 16.—A cloudburst here today flooded the city to a depth of several feet. The loss of life and property was large but its amount can not yet be estimated as many bodies were carried several miles down the valley and probably will not be recovered for several days. The Porfirio Diaz drainage tunnel saved the town from a greater disaster.

The fall of rain was greater than in 1905 when over 200 lives were lost and damage estimated at $250,000 done to property. The city is in a narrow gorge with many American mining properties in the surrounding hills. The Guanajuato river runs through the center of the town and is joined by the Santa Anna river.

At the junction point the water reached its great depth. After the flood in 1905, a tunnel over a mile long was cut through the mountain to prevent a recurrence of the disaster. The tunnel proved to be too small to carry all the water and the lower part of the town suffered.

DELEGATIONS FROM VARIOUS STATES ARRIVE

OKLAHOMA SUPPORTERS OF THE
COLONEL SING ROOSEVELT
"HOUN' DOG SONG."

Chicago, June 16.—Headed by Dynamite, Ed Perry, its chairman, the Oklahoma delegation arrived today. The delegates and their friends traveled in three special trains, the last of which is expected tomorrow. More than 600 are in the party and the first arrivals, headed by a brass band, marched through the streets to their hotel waving banners and singing a "Roosevelt Houn' Dawg" song.

The New Jersey delegation also paraded behind a band when it arrived. The delegation came into town already organized. Borden D. Whiting was named for national committeeman.

Virginia's delegation arrived late in the afternoon and this evening. The rival delegations from Massachusetts came in and opened headquarters in the same hotel. The Roosevelt half of the delegation presented an informal meeting in the evening and will go into the full delegate meeting tomorrow with a purpose to "harmonize things," as the selection of members of the convention committee.

"There will be 18 delegates votes firm for Roosevelt and 18 firm for Taft," said Charles L. Baxter, of the Roosevelt delegation.

The Nevada delegation elected some of its committeemen while en route and on arrival today announced for National Committeeman H. B. Maxon. The six delegates are for Taft.

An addition to the La Follette forces was the North Dakota delegation, a solid line delegation, they say, for La Follette, from the first to the last ballot.

The North Dakota and Wisconsin delegations will caucus together.

Hughes' Friend
Says He Would Take Nomination

Chicago, June 16.—A movement in behalf of Justice Charles E. Hughes of the United States supreme court as a compromise candidate for president took form here today.

Mr. Hotchkiss of New York, former state superintendent of insurance and a close friend of Justice Hughes, is its leading spirit.

"No man, particularly a man with Justice Hughes' ideas of civic duty, can refuse to serve the people of the nation in a crisis such as the present one," he said, when reminding Justice Hughes would not permit his name to be used.

Mr. Hotchkiss and his associates took pains to make it clear that they had come here without the knowledge of Justice Hughes.

"I did not come to Chicago as an opponent of Col. Roosevelt whom, as an exponent of progressive principles, I shall support should he be nominated," said Mr. Hotchkiss.

Chicago, June 16.—Samuel A. Schuler, delegate at large from Illinois to the democratic national convention at Baltimore, today announced that he would work for the adoption of a strong civil service plank in the democratic platform.

BREAK TO TEDDY FROM SOUTH IS RUMOR

REPORTED STAMPEDE OF NEGRO DELEGATES TO ROOSEVELT CAUSES TAFT PANIC

"Nothing to It," Declares McKinley; Says Alleged Deserters Are Not In Chicago.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, June 16.—Another day of conferences, caucuses and counting of delegates brought no solution to the presidential tangle confronting the Republican national convention tonight.

During the day the city rang with rumors that a break had begun. The Roosevelt headquarters made public letters bearing the names of five delegates from Georgia and five from Mississippi, heretofore counted solidly in the Taft column, declaring themselves for Col. Roosevelt as the only hope of the party. Earlier in the day Timothy L. Woodruff of New York had announced that he had given Col. Roosevelt his support.

Taft Men in Panic.
These statements for a time threw the Taft headquarters into something of a panic. Members of the Georgia and Mississippi delegations were hastily summoned and there was a return of composure when it was learned that four of the five Georgia delegates who had supposedly signed the letter to Col. Roosevelt had not yet reached the city. Later Taft headquarters claimed to have telegrams from these delegates denying that they had deserted the president.

L. B. Moseley, national committeeman from Mississippi and chairman of the state delegation, declared tonight that two delegates from that state had been expected to disregard their instructions and vote for Roosevelt. He did not believe any more would change.

Dixon Jubilant.
After these conferences the Taft managers issued a statement denying the Roosevelt claims of accessions and asserting that only Chas. Banks, one of the negro delegates from Mississippi, and Timothy Woodruff of Brooklyn had deserted to the colonel. Senator Dixon, the Roosevelt campaign manager, was jubilant over the day's events.

"We've got them coming," he exclaimed. "We have lots more of them to tell you about, but we don't want too much excitement in one day. Tomorrow we will give you more news of Taft delegates coming over to our side."

"The situation tonight is absolutely unchanged," said Mr. McKinley, director of the Taft headquarters. "Mr. Roosevelt has been sending for delegates who are opposed to his nomination, and has endeavored to persuade them to come over to his standards. This work has been a failure, although claims have been made all day to the contrary."

Colonel Has Happy Day.
Col. Roosevelt spent a happy day in the midst of the approaching convention. He went to church during the morning, took a motor ride during the afternoon and up to a late hour he was "holding a council of war" with his "general staff" of advisers and supporters.

The Roosevelt supporters tonight arranged for a great popular demonstration in honor of their candidate tomorrow when he will hold a reception in the lobby of the Congress hotel.

The reception is planned primarily for the delegates to the convention but many thousands of others probably will pass through the lines. The day has been exceedingly quiet and devoid of news until well along into the afternoon, when the Georgia letter suddenly was sprung from the Roosevelt headquarters. As given out, the letter bore the signatures of Clark Grier, J. H. Boone, J. D. Styles, J. Eugene Peterson and S. S. Mincey. Mr. Grier, author of one of these, is in the city, and acknowledged authorship of the letter, claiming that it represented the sentiment of many of the Georgia delegates and the Republican sentiment in Georgia.

Taft Only Candidate Then.
When we were elected there was but one candidate in the field," said the letter, "and there seemed nothing to do but accept Mr. Taft and inevitable defeat in November. At that time it seemed to make little plan of the democratic platform.

Chicago, June 16.—Out of a chaos of claims and counter-claims, report of a break to Roosevelt from the Taft ranks and a declaration by the Taft managers that Col. Roosevelt's attempts to "steal" their delegates had met with failure, there came tonight the frank statement by Roosevelt leaders that regardless of what the final round up of delegates may show, Col. Roosevelt will leave Chicago a nominee for president.

There will be no bolt, they say, but if there is an attempt to make permanent the temporary roll reported by the national committee, the Roosevelt delegates, believing they have a right to act as "representatives of the people," may take matters into their own hands, nominate Mr. Roosevelt in the coliseum and claim for him the regularity of the Republican party.

They have determined to demand a roll call on the first proposition that comes up. This undoubtedly will come on the right of Governor Johnson of California to cast the 26 votes from that state on the question of temporary chairmanship.

This right will be questioned by the two Taft delegates from the fourth district. Then will come the move which the Roosevelt leaders have planned. They will move at once that the "temporary roll," as made up by the national committee, be rejected and that a sub roll, prepared by the Roosevelt leaders, be adopted. This roll will include the 70 to 80 delegates which Colonel Roosevelt claims were stolen from him and which would be sufficient to give the Roosevelt forces control of the convention.

Plan Revolutionary.
Under this plan of procedure, submitting the contests to the convention en bloc, none of the delegates affected by the contests could vote. Under customary rules passing upon the contests state by state, one contested state might pass upon the right of another.

The Roosevelt plan is a revolutionary one. It will be bitterly opposed by the Taft leaders, but it will serve the purpose of bringing the fight quickly to the front, and this is what the Roosevelt leaders desire.

Victor Roosevelt, chairman of the national committee, will call the convention to order. It is not believed he will entertain the motion to consider a second list of delegates, but will insist upon waiting for the report of the committee on credentials, which ordinarily would not come up for consideration until Wednesday. If he does this, the Roosevelt leaders will move at once to proceed to the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt.

To Hold Own Convention.
In other words, the Roosevelt delegates in such a case would attempt to hold a convention of their own within the convention hall.

Col. Roosevelt tonight conferred for more than an hour with Chairman Roosevelt.

The colonel demanded to know what Mr. Roosevelt's attitude would be when the Roosevelt forces proposed to substitute a new temporary roll for that prepared by the committee.

"The rule of the committee will apply," answered Mr. Roosevelt.

When asked if he would not consent to submit the question to the committee, Mr. Roosevelt was said to have asked for time in which to consider the question. It is expected he will confer with his associates early tomorrow.

Borah Agreed on.
After midnight the Roosevelt forces agreed to enter Senator Borah as their candidate against Senator Root for the temporary chairmanship. Governor Hadley of Missouri was selected as floor leader to conduct the Roosevelt fight during the convention.

A report heard of tonight was in effect that if the Roosevelt delegates failed in this first test, they would name their own ticket and that two sets of Republican candidates would be presented.

Colonel Roosevelt was asked about it. "That's nonsense," he said. "But in the event that the delegates whose election you consider fraudulent are seated," he was asked, "can your delegates give countenance to this act by sitting in a convention with them?"

Colonel Roosevelt paused for a moment to consider his answer.

"We'll cross that bridge when we come to it," he said at last.

RICH AND 60, TELLS COURT HE IS ONLY 21

Special to The Morning News.

New York, June 16.—Joseph J. White, who lives alone at 136 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, tried to play ducks and drakes with Chief Magistrate Otto Kempner and finished by putting up $500 bail to appear on a charge of grand larceny.

The trouble was over clothing belonging to Miss Anna Douglass, who was housekeeper for White from May 22 to June 3. When she sent for her clothing White refused to surrender it and she summoned him before Magistrate Kempner for a hearing. White wrote to the magistrate that he was detained by legal engagements, but that Miss Douglass might have her clothing. Detectives went after him.

White once slid out of Raymond street jail on a rope after he had been committed for contempt of court. He is said to have $500,000 as a legacy from his wife, but his son has charge of the money.

In giving his pedigree in court he said he is 21 and was born on Bunker Hill. He has long been well known in Brooklyn and is now well past 60.

PARTY CHIEFS ASSEMBLE AT BALTIMORE

NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE HAS FEW CONTENTS TO COME BEFORE IT.

Two Notable Figures Before Convention Will Be Bryan and Judge Parker.

By The Associated Press.

Baltimore, June 16.—Only part of the work accomplished by the Democratic national convention, which opens here on June 15th, will be performed in the convention hall. The results will appear there, but before these results are attained lights will burn far into the night at various hotels and office buildings throughout the city, where convention headquarters have been established by the national organization and the organizations supporting the candidates for places on the national ticket.

A political convention is a law unto itself. Without leaders and committees to plan their work the great body of delegates could make little headway, but even the most astute leader cannot always know when the delegates will upset carefully prepared routine. Nevertheless, until the delegates ballot and one of the candidates receives the two-thirds vote necessary for nomination, those who are trying to learn in advance what the result will be will watch these headquarters.

A national convention has been likened to a great engine in which the fly wheel is the national committee, the governors the committees on credentials and resolutions, and the fuel is the body of delegates which supply the motive power, controlled and regulated by these three committees.

The actual work of the convention started here when members of the national committee began to arrive. This committee consists of 52 members, one from each state and from Alaska, District of Columbia, Hawaii and Porto Rico. Its quarters are at the Hotel Belvedere, situated in the Mt. Royal district, within walking distance of the convention hall. The two top floors of the Belvedere have been engaged by the committee, including 65 bed rooms, many with sitting rooms attached. In addition, the committee has taken the hotel banquet hall for its sessions. In this room the committee goes over the papers filed by the contesting delegates and prepares the temporary roll of the convention. This roll will be used when the convention is first called to order. After the committee on credentials is appointed, those who are dissatisfied with the ruling of the national committee will take their claims before the new committee.

The committee on credentials, and the resolutions committee which drafts the platform as yet have no regular meeting place. Some of their work may be done at the Belvedere in rooms allotted them by the national committee, and some in the rooms assigned to them at the convention hall.

Next to the rooms engaged by the national committee, the largest reservation at the Belvedere has been made by Thomas Taggart, national committeeman from Indiana. For the members of his committee and his friends Mr. Taggart has taken 50 rooms in the main buildings, with accommodations for 65 persons more in the Annex and the "Blue Parlor" on the second floor as state delegation headquarters. Other national committeemen in whose name large reservations have been made at the Belvedere are: Roger C. Sullivan, Illinois; Homer S. Cummings, Connecticut; J. B. Kremer, Montana; A. J. Daly, Alaska; Alvah Adams, Colorado; Edwin O. Wood, Michigan; Clark Howell, Georgia; J. M. Guffey, Pennsylvania; Willard Saulsbury, Delaware; Urey Wilson of Kentucky, secretary of the national committee, and Herman Rider of New York, its treasurer, also have their quarters here.

Representatives of the candidates for presidential nomination will be early on the ground, and all of them engaged their headquarters months ago. Several of them have taken suites of offices in the downtown business section, as well as large blocks of rooms in the principal hotels. The Clark campaign committee has offices in the Munsey building, corner Calvert and Fayette streets. Governor Harmon's managers have a suite in the Equitable building, across the street, and the Wilson committee has leased an entire small building at No. 10 East Lexington street.

The Underwood forces are the only ones that expect to have a whole hotel to themselves. They have reserved all the rooms and parlors in the Eutaw House, one of the older hostels at the corner of Eutaw and Baltimore streets. This hotel was badly damaged by fire a few weeks ago, but it is expected that repairs will be finished before the convention opens.

The hotel headquarters of the Wilson and Clark workers are in the Emerson, at the corner of Calvert and Charles streets, in the heart of the business district, and only half a block from the Munsey and Equitable buildings. The Wilson committee has the banquet hall and parlor on the mezzanine floor and 14 bed rooms. The Harmon men have 15 sleeping rooms and a parlor on the mezzanine floor for their meetings.

Two of the notable figures in Baltimore during the convention will be William J. Bryan and Alton B. Parker, the former thrice and the latter once the choice of a Democratic presidential convention. Col. Bryan comes as a delegate from Nebraska and Judge Parker as a delegate from New York. The Nebraskan and his brother have a suite at the Belvedere adjoining the rooms of the national committee, and the Nebraska delegation also has quarters in the same hotel. Judge Parker will stay at

Colonel and His Manager

Ex-President Roosevelt and Senator Joseph M. Dixon, who has been at the head of the colonel's forces throughout the latter's campaign against Taft in the fight for the republican presidential nomination.

The Emerson, where the New York state delegation will make its headquarters, although not all the 90 delegates from that state have been able to obtain accommodations there.

Tammany hall has taken 25 rooms at the Emerson, having abandoned the plan of coming to Baltimore on a big steamer and using the craft as a hotel during the convention. Other celebrities from the Empire State who have suites at this hotel are Gov. Dix, U. S. Senator O'Gorman and Charles A. Murphy, the Tammany Hall leader. Col. George Harvey also has announced his intention of staying there. The rooms of the New York leaders are expected to become one of the important skirmish grounds of convention week, since this state sends the largest delegation and its representatives come un-instructed. Until developments in the convention hall itself are conclusive the deliberations of the New York leaders and conferences at the headquarters of Mr. Bryan are expected to attract the greatest attention.

The most unique—and if the weather is very warm, the most comfortable—quarters in Baltimore have been engaged by William R. Hearst. For the use of himself and his friends the New York editor has taken the big roof garden on the Hotel Emerson.

Other state delegations that already have established quarters are located as follows:

Hotel Rennett—Rhode Island, Iowa, Mississippi, Virginia, part of West Virginia.

Hotel Emerson—Minnesota, Vermont, North Carolina, Kentucky, Missouri, part of West Virginia.

The handling of the convention arrangements, separate from the purely political end, is in the hands of a large number of local committees, which have their quarters on the first floor of the Equitable building. Here a large suite of offices filled with employees will be devoted to the work of making the convention visitors comfortable and at home.

NEW ENSIGNS RACE FOR BRIDAL HONORS

Three Annapolis Graduates Contest for Class Banner.

Special to The Morning News.

Annapolis, June 16.—Three young men who were middies yesterday morning and commissioned officers last night are benedicts.

After an exciting race for the honor of being the first of the Naval Academy to wed, and thereby to win the class banner, Ensign Harold B. Crowe, of Greenfield, Mich., was declared the winner, he having married Miss Edith C. Brady, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Brady of Annapolis, in St. Mary's Roman Catholic church here shortly after 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Miss Dorothea Knox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Knox, and Ensign Roscoe Martin of San Francisco were married at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, near Elliott City. The third wedding was that of Miss Lillian Elizabeth Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Martin of Annapolis, and Ensign Thales Stewart Boyd of Clearfield, Pa., in St. Anne's Church, at 6 o'clock last night.

BIG CONTEST OPENED IN EARNEST SATURDAY

The big popularity contest, in which the Dixie, Alamo and Cozy theaters are participating, opened Saturday morning under very favorable circumstances. And the biggest contest of its kind ever attempted in the southwest promises to be even a greater success than the promoters anticipated. Nominations by the hundreds poured into the office of the contest manager, which is located over the Dixie theater, and a large force of clerks and office men are required to keep track of the numerous nominations and inquiries which have literally swamped the office. Men, women, boys and girls of every section of the city have become interested in the contest and have either nominated themselves or a favorite friend, and have announced that they would work with might and main.

The big seven-passenger touring car, which will be given away among the $15,000 prizes, is on display in the lobby of the Alamo, and attracted a great deal of attention from interested passersby, who evidenced much surprise that such a costly and magnificent prize could be given away for so little effort on the part of the contestants.

The ballot boxes are of the regular election pattern and are located in the lobby of the Alamo, Dixie and Cozy theaters. These boxes are locked and the keys were turned over to Mayor Mackey yesterday afternoon. Contestants and their friends can cast their ballots and nomination coupons in them. They will be opened Friday of each week, in the presence of one or more of the judges. The ballots counted and classified, the standing of contestants will be published in Sunday's issue of the Waco press. The ballots, after being counted, will be sealed and placed in a safety deposit box, where they will remain until the final count when the contest closes, when a recount will be made by the judges.

No contestant is obliged to place their votes in the ballot box before the close of the contest, although it will be advisable for contestants to cast enough votes from time to time to let their friends know they are in the race.

Coupons may be had for the asking at the contest headquarters over the Dixie or the box offices of the Alamo, Dixie and Cozy.

The most popular ones are going to win these valuable prizes, $15,000 they are worth. They can not and will not be bought, as no one can know how many votes a contestant has, as they may be getting them from different sources and can and will hold the back until the final day. Many nominations are coming in constantly. Your name may be among them, but to make sure, put one in now. In case of a tie, prizes will be equally divided among those tying.

JOY! CANDY GOOD FOR KIDS.
Special to The Morning News.
New York.—The increasing consumption of candy in this country has been the subject of considerable comment at medical meetings here recently. According to the New York Medical Journal, it is generally agreed that the food value of candy is beyond dispute and that it has a therapeutic use in certain forms of heart disease. The absence of fat, it seems, is an indication that children should not partake of it in unlimited quantities, although the only danger from eating it lies in the fact that it is often adulterated.

child to eat unlimited candy lies in the absence of fat. If the parent is warned to introduce sufficient quantities of the carbohydrates by insisting upon the use of butter or oils in the diet, the child may generally eat pure candy without detriment and even with distinct advantage.

"The sole danger of candy eating lies in adulteration. Common sense will eventually put a stop to all food adulteration, meanwhile the candy lover may confine his palate to confections of modest hue or to those marketed under honorable names."

SHUSTER NOW AGENT FOR BANK IN SOUTH AMERICA.

Special to The Morning News.

London, June 16.—W. Morgan Shuster has called for Rio de Janeiro on a visit to the countries of South America as the representative of the National City Bank.

Mr. Shuster will report upon the latest commercial possibilities of the countries in question and how to extend the present volume of America's trade relations with each. It is the National City Bank's plan to establish branches in various points of South America, mainly in Brazil, Argentina and Chile.

YOUNG MATRON KILLS FORMER SWEETHEART.

Declares Butcher Followed Her From Shop to House—Shot in Her Own Home.

Special to The Morning News.
Baltimore, June 16.—Attacked in her own home, 1009 Federal street, by her husband's closest friend and the sweetheart of her girlhood, Mrs. Antonia Pietropolo, a comely Italian matron, 25 years old, shot and killed her assailant, Antonio Merlino, a butcher of 821 South Mildred street, yesterday morning.

Following the shooting Mrs. Pietropolo walked up and down the street in front of her home, her head erect and eyes flashing defiance at those who criticized her action in destroying the man who sought to break up her home.

Merlino, his jugular vein pierced by the first bullet fired by the woman, ran screaming from her house to his butcher shop, 156 South Tenth street, expiring just as he reached its door.

While Mrs. Pietropolo fired three shots, two went wide of their mark, only the first one, fired when the man was close to her that his face was badly burned by powder, taking effect. She made no effort to avoid arrest when the police arrived, surrendering to Patrolman Hubbard of the Fifteenth street and Snyder avenue station. The police believe she was justified in her action.

STEAD REMINISCES TO APPEAR IN BOOK

Special to The Morning News.
Paris, June 16.—A volume of reminiscences of the late Mr. William T. Stead is to be published shortly by M. Jean Finot, who describes Mr. Stead as the "king of journalists." The two writers were close friends for many years, and M. Finot has a rich store of anecdotes concerning his lamented colleague.

Referring to Mr. Stead's spiritualistic experiments, M. Finot relates how on one occasion a medium, in the presence of a number of witnesses, predicted the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga of Serbia. Mr. Stead was so convinced of the veracity of the prediction that he went to the Serbian minister in London and finally induced him to send warning to his sovereign.

The warning was heeded by the young king, and several months later the terrible Belgrade tragedy was enacted with details absolutely identical with those described by Mr. Stead's medium.

ANNA HELD SAYS SHE IS SEEKING A HUSBAND

ISN'T PARTICULAR AS TO NATIONALITY IF HE IS THE RIGHT MAN.

Special to The Morning News.
London, June 16.—Miss Anna Held makes the important announcement that she is looking for a husband.

"Yes, yes, I am seeking a husband," said Miss Held, who divorced Florenz Ziegfeld recently. "As soon as the right man asks me I shall say 'It is not good for woman to live alone.'"

"And must he be a Frenchman this time?" asked the New York American correspondent.

"He must be the right man," answered the actress with decision. "Beyond that, it does not matter who or what he is."

Miss Held followed this announcement by stating that she will not appear on the American stage again. But it must be admitted that this she is not so certain.

Miss Held moralized a while on the subject of divorce.

"In any kind of life it is difficult for people to live together unless they do live together," said she. "Theatrical people should not marry unless they remain in the same company."

"I do not think theatrical people are different from any others. If there are more divorces among them than among other classes, it is simply because wives and husbands are separated so much, not because they are stage folk. Some actors may make temperamental an excuse for immorality, but so do painters, musicians and other artists. Yes, and there are quite a few business men who go in for temperamental."

"Will your new husband be with you always?" asked the correspondent.

"If I return to the stage he will not necessarily be in the theater at every performance," she answered. "But he will be in the same city with me, and not hundreds of miles away from me for dozens of weeks."

"And will you make him your manager as did Grace La Rue, Edna Wallace Hopper, Margaret Illington and other stars?"

"That is for him to decide. Very often actresses have their husbands their managers, because the question of money enters. If the man has money she continues to make him invest it in her play; if he has no money she gives him a plain everyday job as manager."

WAGE FIGHT ON TRUSTS IS AUSTRALIA'S POLICY

Government Represents Interests of the People in War Against Combinations.

Special to The Morning News.
Sydney, Australia, June 16.—Australia as a trust-buster has a way all her own, and she seems to be advancing it, even though critics cry it points to socialism.

A short time ago the brickmakers of this city boasted the price of bricks to such an altitude that house building became prohibitive. Up rose the government in righteous indignation, bought a brick kiln and sold bricks at reasonable prices. And once more at the same time the "why pay rent?" type decorated the billboards.

Then the brickmakers enlisted the sympathy of the landlords, and up went house rents. Instead of invoking the Australian equivalent of the Sherman law, once more the government stepped into the ring and erected 800 homes, for which it charged ordinary rates.

The same story is heard from all parts of the commonwealth. When ever there is any danger of a trust being formed the government steps in to the ring and fights it out with bare knuckles, and the combination has so far gone down every time. The men returned to power are actually using it to protect the people instead of playing politics. To the capitalist the government says: "You may do what you like, but you must pay your workers a living wage and charge fair prices. Otherwise you are scratched for this event."

The government in this state of New South Wales controls the railroads, the street car systems and the post and telegraph systems. In Victoria the government owns two coal mines, and in West Australia it runs a hotel and saloon. There seems to be a far-reaching movement for the government to run all actual necessities of life, and not to allow a few men to form a trust.

Irrigation here is not yet out of its swaddling clothes, mainly owing to the fact that there are no snow-fed rivers and it is only recently that artesian water has been found. Now old Father Government has stepped in and built a dam that cost him $5,000,000 and will supply 150,000 people with water at a cost high enough only to bring in sufficient money to pay sinking fund and interest.

SETS HENS IN HIS COFFIN.

Special to The Morning News.
North Adams, Mass., June 16.—When Edward D. Pomeroy was buried in the little mountain town of Buckland in a coffin that he made with his own hands, a strange plea made by the old man to a doctor to save his life for two weeks came to light.

"Can't you keep me alive two weeks?" asked the ill man, anxiously. "Why do you want to live just two weeks?" asked the doctor.

"Well, you see," he replied, "I have six hens setting in that coffin and I'd rather not disturb them until they've hatched."

But Pomeroy died yesterday and new nests were found for the hens.

SHOOTS WOMAN WHO "ENMESHED" HIM

ASSAILANT SAYS WIDOW USED ORIENTAL WILES AND BOWED HIS MONEY.

Special to The Morning News.

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 16.—When Mrs. Margaret Martin thrust some flowers under the nose of a street car conductor in leaving the car at the Saltair depot yesterday afternoon she ignorantly courted death. Winfield Wood, a collector, passing on a bicycle, saw the woman, drew a revolver and shot the woman through the body. She was taken to the hospital to die. Wood waited for the police.

In explanation of his crime Wood said that Mrs. Martin had enmeshed him in the thrall of Oriental vices two years ago, borrowed his money and caused him to neglect his wife and children.

Mrs. Martin was shot and wounded several years ago by a Mrs. Douglas, who claimed that her husband had fallen a victim to Mrs. Martin's allurements. Later Mrs. Martin has been working at a Saltair beach lunch counter. She is a widow 37 years old and has children almost grown.

UTILITY OF ELECTRIC POWER ON THE FARM

Lecturer Before National Association Illustrates Talk With Motion Pictures.

Special to The Morning News.
Seattle, June 16.—C. H. Williams of Denver lectured tonight before the power transmission session of the National Electric Association on "Electricity on the Farm," illustrating his talk with lantern slides and motion pictures.

He showed the advantage of pumped irrigation water as compared with water brought from a distance in ditches, and dwelt on the expensive quality of horse power, declaring that the cost of animal power is several times that of electric power, with the advantage of having no feed bill for the electric plant when it is idle. Next to its use in irrigation are the possibilities of electric power in the work of cutting and grinding feed for stock.

In the commercial session tonight the committee on electric advertising condemned the installation of unsightly displays or poor mechanical effects and said:

"All electric signs insofar as possible should be beautiful both day and night. Too frequently the daylight aspects are overlooked."

BRYAN'S STAND IS ALARMING TO OTHERS

REPORT HE WILL SUPPORT WILSON CAUSES FLURRY AMONG CANDIDATES.

Special to The Morning News.

Washington, June 16.—Alarm was felt in three Democratic camps today when friends of William J. Bryan passed the word along at the capitol and at various headquarters that Gov. Woodrow Wilson would, at the proper time, receive Colonel Bryan's active support and that the weight of his influence would be depended upon to assure the governor's nomination at Baltimore.

This information came so straight from Lincoln, Neb. it is said, that the friends of Speaker Clark, Governor Harmon and Congressman Underwood made no effort to discredit the report. They spent a good deal of time talking it over and calculating the effect of an open alliance between the Bryan and Wilson forces.

Up to this time Colonel Bryan has been neutral in his support of Speaker Clark and Governor Wilson. In one state he would throw his influence to the speaker, and in another he would line up his friends behind Wilson.

In this fashion he has demonstrated his willingness to stand with any progressive in his party. According to statements made by friends of Colonel Bryan, the Nebraska is convinced that the time is approaching when he must part company with Speaker Clark. Bryan has never forgiven William Randolph Hearst for bolting the Democratic party in two out of three campaigns in which the Commoner was the leading factor in the Clark campaign, and many of the Clark campaigners are giving the New York publisher credit for a large part of the Clark success. Particularly is this true of Illinois, Massachusetts and California.

Colonel Bryan, according to emphatic statements of his friends, will, before the Baltimore convention is over, withdraw any support he may have given Speaker Clark and will center this upon Governor Wilson. He will not join with Mr. Hearst in naming a Democratic candidate, they add, thereby placing himself in a position of dividing honors with Mr. Hearst.

Whatever side of the Democratic fight on which Colonel Bryan may finally land, the fact is being recognized on every hand that his influence is something which must be figured upon strongly. His supporters are perhaps more loyal to him than many of the people are to those candidates for whom they may be instructed. In congress, for instance, there is an effective group of leaders that makes no important legislative move without first consulting the Nebraska.

Ready to Follow Him Here. These congressmen are prepared to follow their leader at Baltimore just as faithfully as they follow his advice in legislation. They have indicated this is a score of ways and as convention time draws near the shadow of Bryan looms more and more prominently upon the political horizon.

PASTORS TO CHECK MARRIAGES OF UNFIT

HAGERSTOWN, MD., MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION CONSIDERS TAKING DRASTIC ACTION.

Special to The Morning News.

Hagerstown, Md., June 16.—The matter of regulating marriages was considered by the members of the Hagerstown Ministerial association at a regular meeting of the organization at St. John's Lutheran church. The association is composed of all of the Protestant ministers in the city, who decided that some concerted action should be taken relative to performing marriages.

It is claimed that couples come here to be married who are not legally or morally fit for married life, and the ministers desire to agree upon a basis of action that couples who do not meet the requirements of the standard cannot be married in Hagerstown. They want to adopt some kind for happier and better marriages, though the law gives all couples the right to get married who can comply with the requirements. The ministers claim that the law is lax in this respect.

A committee was appointed, consisting of Rev. Dr. S. W. Owen, Rev. Dr. J. S. Simon and Rev. Dr. Conrad Clever, to frame a resolution restricting marriages, and it is understood that the association will adopt it at the next meeting.

PLUCKY WIFE HELPS "AFFINITY" IN FIGHT.

Collars Brother-in-Law as He and Her Husband Suddenly Appear.

Special to The Morning News.

Baltimore, June 16.—While her husband and brother-in-law were pursuing her alleged affinity with bricks shortly before 1 o'clock this morning, Mrs. Mamie Neubert, 26 years old and pretty, of 1532 Orleans street, promptly championed the cause of the fleeing one by collaring her brother-in-law, removing a brick from his hand and giving it to her affinity so that he might defend himself. She even went further than this and testified in the "affinity's" behalf when he and she were arraigned before Justice Dean in the Northwestern police court this morning on the charge of disturbing the peace.

The "affinity" was Louis G. Jones, 30 years old, of 619 Columbia avenue. According to the testimony, Jones and Mrs. Neubert had spent the evening together and were in the act of parting at Caroline and Orleans streets when the latter's husband William Neubert, appeared, accompanied by his brother, Albert Neubert, of 519 North Patterson Park avenue. The wife and "affinity" detected them, and while the former ran in the direction of home, the "affinity" and up Bond street. The brothers beat a hasty retreat down Orleans overtook him on the latter street, however, and then things became active that Patrolman Curran of the Northeastern district appeared.

At the approach of the bluesett the "affinity" again took to his heels and was apprehended in the yard of the Broadway hotel with a brick in his hand. At this juncture the bus band ordered the arrest of both his wife and her affinity, and they were taken to the police station, where they were obliged to deposit $102.50 each as collateral for their appearance this morning.

The husband testified that he had not pursued Jones with any hostile motives, but Mrs. Neubert denied this and said that both he and his brother had armed themselves with bricks. She said she was forced to slap her brother-in-law in the face and take a brick from him for fear that her "affinity" might get hurt.

Jones testified that he had known Mrs. Neubert a year or more, and Magistrate Dean imposed a fine of $10 and costs upon the "affinity." Neubert withdrew the charge against his wife, but even then she remained with Jones and left the station house on his arm.

IN NICK OF TIME TO SAVE LIFE OF WIFE

Special to The Morning News.

Baltimore, June 16.—Striking a bottle of creosote from her hand just as she raised it to her lips, William T. Hubbard of 523 East Cross street prevented his wife ending her life yesterday morning.

Mrs. Hubbard is said to have been worrying over ill health for some time, and yesterday morning, while her husband was out of the house, she purchased the creosote.

Returning, the husband found his wife in her room with her arm raised and about to put the bottle to her lips. He grabbed her arm, and as he did so half of the contents of the bottle was spilled, striking Mrs. Hubbard in the face and burning her lips and left cheek.

She was taken to the Mercy hospital in the Southern district ambulance and attended by Dr. Hogan, who says the woman did not swallow any of the liquid and only suffered slight superficial burns.

DEBS ASSAILS
OLD PARTIES
AS CORRUPT

SAYS REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC PARTIES STAND FOR CAPITALISM.

Lambasts Teddy, Taft, LaFollette, Harmon, Clark, Wilson and Bryan.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, June 16.—The first campaign in which the socialist party has had a complete ticket in every state in the nation opened here this afternoon. Eugene V. Debs and Emil Seidel, the socialist candidates for president and vice-president of the United States, made the chief address. Both candidates spoke at a meeting in Riverview Park.

Mr. Debs spoke in part as follows:

"In this campaign there are but two parties and but one issue. The so-called republican and democratic parties are substantially one in what they stand for, opposed to each other on no question of principle but purely in a contest for spoils of office. They, or rather it, stands for capital, private ownership and the exploitation of the workers and for wage slavery—a spectacle of political degeneracy never before witnessed in this or any other country.

All Against Socialism.

"We have before us in this city at this hour, an exhibition of capitalist machine politics which lays bare the true inwardness of the situation in the capitalist camp. Nothing that any socialist has ever charged is to be compared with what Taft and Roosevelt have charged and proved upon one another. They are both good republicans, just as Harmon and Bryan are both good democrats and they are all agreed that socialism would be the ruin of the country.

"What difference is there, judged by what they stand for, between Taft, Roosevelt, La Follette, Harmon, Wilson, Clark and Bryan?

"Marshaled in battle array against the corrupt capitalist party, or so-called parties, is the young, virile, revolutionary socialist party, the party of the awakening working class. Red banners proclaim the coming triumph of international socialism.

Organized in Early State.

For the first time, Mr. Debs said, the socialist party was now organized in every state in the union with a full ticket in the field and there was but one issue, he said, that applied to this conquering army—the unconditional surrender of the capitalist class.

Mr. Debs demanded socialist justice for every man, woman and child, and referred bitterly to conditions in the New England textile mills, lumber and railroad camps of the northwest to what he called "the civilized savages of San Diego," to the pressmen's strike in Chicago and to the shop strikes on the Harriman railroads.

Mr. Debs declared that according to the latest census reports factory workers in the United States were paid an average wage of $513 a year, an increase of not quite 9 per cent in five years, and an increase of 21 per cent in ten years, but the average cost of living had increased more than 40 per cent during the same time.

The speech of Emil Seidel was devoted largely to showing the extraordinary power of the capitalist system, which, he said, "holds in its spells every man, woman and child, every human soul, every institution in our country, controls the world's finances and can make legislatures do its bidding."

TAFT MEN WON'T MENTION PAYNE TARIFF BILL

board. They condemn the present efforts of the democratic house of representatives to change this tariff as unwise and unscientific, declaring its unnecessary disturbance of business along unconstructive lines. No decision has been reached as to whether there shall be an explicit declaration for a cut in tariff rates, but the indications are that there will be such a declaration regarding articles found by the tariff board to be subject to unnecessary high duties. Probably there will be no pronouncement on reciprocity.

There also will be dual declarations in favor of legislation to curb monopoly. The Taft people favor the retention of the Sherman anti-trust law, but would build on it so as to define its operations and at the same time give the general public the benefit of its protecting effect. The Rooseveltians will treat the subject along somewhat different lines, especially emphasizing the necessity of regulating the operations of the large corporations.

The Roosevelt people will press well to the front the subject of popular government, declaring in favor of all the instruments tending in that direction, whether they be primary elections, the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, the initiative, the referendum and the recall.

Suffrage Plank Feature. The fact will be recognized, however, that many of these agencies can be employed only in the government of the states and in such cases the platform will specifically refer them to the various communities for local determination. A suffrage plank is one of the new features of the Roosevelt declaration.

The initiative and referendum will not be touched upon by the Taft document, but the recall will be flatly denounced as calculated to undermine the stability of government.

This Whole Family
Receives Degrees

Special to The Morning News.
San Francisco, June 16.—Another daughter and son will be awarded the degree of bachelor of law at the coming commencement for the University of California. They are: Mrs. Anna Kalfus, her daughter, Miss Italia de Jarrette, and her son, Henry Kalfus de Jarrette. Mrs. Spero is prominent among the members of women's federated clubs and was an active worker in the successful campaign for woman suffrage in California. Miss de Jarrette is president of the Civic Study League, and besides being a student has held the fencing championship of the college for three years. Her brother is graduating with highest honors in the University Law School, his average for the many long examinations being 95 per cent.

Special declaration will be made by enforcement of law.

The proposition of a central banking reserve will be supported by the Taft resolutions but the Aldrich bill will not be referred to by name. The Roosevelt declaration will mention the Aldrich plan but to condemn it. Both documents will declare for the conservation of natural resources of the country but the Roosevelt pronouncement which is understood to have been prepared by Mr. Pinchot will be much more sweeping in its demands. Both pronounce for a strong navy.

The improvement of the Mississippi river on a comprehensive scale will be advocated in the Roosevelt paper. The platform prepared by President Taft's friends commends his administration in high terms; the Roosevelt paper is silent on that subject.

The Taft document will be brief if the advice of men in today's meeting is heeded. They take the position that only the essentials should be presented. The Roosevelt document will be larger and more specific.

UNION REVIVAL AT TABERNACLE

TWO ROUSING MEETINGS SUNDAY—FAREWELL SPEECHES ARE MADE.

Singing Evangelist Presented With Gold Watch—Ham Goes to Louisville.

With converts coming till the last moment, and tears of rejoicing in hundreds of eyes, the union revival closed last night, after five weeks of high pressure and successful work. Fawell speeches were made by Evangelists Ham and Ramsey, expressing their appreciation of the royal treatment received from the Waco people.

Judge W. H. Jenkins expressed the love of the Waco folk for the evangelist, in a neat and fervent speech.

At the afternoon session the singing evangelist was presented with a beautiful gold watch as a token of appreciation for his friendship. Dr. Knickerbocker made the presentation speech.

The evening service was given over at the opening portion to a farewell offering as compensation to Brother Ham. The responses were earnest and generous.

Evangelist Ham left this morning on the Katy Flyer for his home in Louisville, Kentucky, to spend a week of rest with his family, after which he will return to Texas for more meetings.

The pastors and leading church workers are joyous over the results of the revival. They state that the next few weeks will see many accessions to the churches in addition to those already gained. Several of the churches will hold brief meetings of their own in a short while, after the workers have had a little rest.

One thing that the Rev. Mr. Ham commended at the close of the meeting and which was heartily commended by "amen" was the fine spirit of unity among the churches as developed and practiced in the meeting.

Calls for Little
Joe and Gets Two Big Policemen

Leisurely strolling along through the quiet precincts of Sandtown, the policeman's educated ear was assailed by an almost forgotten sound. Thinking that perhaps the hot air was serving a trick on his senses, he stopped and listened. No, there was no mirage of sound, clearly he heard it now.

"Hail! Seben—please, Mr. Bones, seben! Little Joe, Mr. Bones, Jes' one lil' Joe! Please, lil' Joe, Jes' once!"

The policeman, being a student of dead languages, interpreted the strange chant quickly. It was a meeting of the Ancient and Honorable Order of Bone Rollers. Little Joe is one of the mythical characters to which devotees of the order direct their prayers. His sign is two deuces or an ace and a tray. He is hard to reach.

Long meetings of the order have long been tabooed in Waco, the policeman surrounded the building, plugged the windows and cracks and corralled the entire membership. One negro and eight white men were gathered into the dragnet, which descended as one of the devotees was making strenuous calls on one "Big Dick."

To those who never tried to get "lil' Joe," it might be better to explain that the charge against the nine on the police blotter was shooting craps. The arrests were made by Police Officers Alva Tilley and Lee Huff.

ANOTHER MEETING REPORTED.

Police Asked to Break Up Session on North Fifth.

About 9:30 o'clock last night a quiet message reached the police station that a crap game was in progress in the vicinity of Barron and Fifth streets. A detachment of four policemen in the auto patrol was hastened to the scene. The officers saw the bird had flown when they arrived, but they found an abandoned beer keg with foam oozing from the spigot, overturned in the basement of a negro school house in the neighborhood. A search of the neighborhood failed to reveal any tangible traces of the supposed game of the bones.

The appearance of the big, puffing hoodlum wagon in that neighborhood created considerable excitement and curiosity among passersby, who sought to learn the cause of the trouble. Quite a crowd soon collected around "Black Stella." The officers who responded to the hurry-call were J. W. Taylor, John Morgan, George Barnard and Dan Harbison. No arrests were made.

WACO NEGROES WILL OBSERVE JUNETEENTH

The local negro population is making elaborate preparations for their annual emancipation celebration, June 19. The program will be carried out at New Hope Park on North Sixth street.

Among the features of the program is a greased pig which will be turned loose in the enclosure and the person catching and holding the slippery animal will be allowed to retain the pig as a prize.

Five minute talks by ex-slaves will also be a feature of the entertainment, which will attract attention. Prof. A. S. Jackson will discuss the negro in politics. Other addresses and reading of papers will add to the interest of the evening.

Kentucky Belle
Reigns In London

Special to The Morning News.

London, June 16.—The Hon. Mrs. Cecil Bingham, who, as a Kentucky belle, became the wife of Samuel Seneb, of New York, and her daughter, Miss Alice Chaucney, are rapidly gaining the title of the best dressed and most beautiful women in London. So well has Mrs. Bingham preserved the rare beauty of her girlhood, that she and her equally attractive daughter are generally most prominent figures at London's smartest functions, and caused one famous statesman to remark recently: "The lovely mother of a lovely daughter—which is the younger?"

difference whether there were instructions or no instructions, delegates or no delegates, for it seemed then a foregone conclusion that Mr. Taft was to be the Republican nominee and a Democrat the next president.

"With the announcement of your candidacy the party was given a new lease of life; a country-wide sentiment sprung up that contained some promise of business stability and aggressive leadership; the man whose name was synonymous with the 'square deal' was in the field, the party as well as the country bucked up. It was now a fight worth while. It was a fight that meant something."

The Mississippi letter as given out bore the names of Chas. Banks, W. P. Looker, Jerry W. Howard, Daniel W. Lary and Wesley Crayton. This letter says:

"We, the undersigned delegates to the Republican national convention from the state of Mississippi, having after full conference and discussion among ourselves, and having only in view the welfare of the Republican party and of the nation, and fully appreciative of your known stand for a square deal to all men irrespective of race or creed, and believing that in the crisis which now confronts the Republican party, you are the only man than can lead it to victory in November, have this day decided to tender you our support in the Republican party as president of the United States."

The Mississippi letter was quickly followed by a report that the two delegates from Hawaii, instructed for Taft, had decided to join hands with the California delegation in its support of Col. Roosevelt. This report later was denied by the two delegates, who declared they would abide by their instructions.

"Unfounded," McKinley Says.

When the hotel corridors began to murmur gossip of a Roosevelt landslide, Director McKinley, Senator Penrose, Wm. Barnes, Jr., of New York, and several other of the Taft leaders, talked over the matter, and after several hours of investigation Director McKinley declared the Roosevelt claims were unfounded and the situation unchanged.

"The delegates who favor the nomination of President Taft do so," he said, "because they believe that his nomination is absolutely essential, not only for the preservation of the Republican party, upon its traditional principles, but also for progress through order. They cannot be swayed from these principles, no matter what inducements may be offered."

"President Taft has the votes necessary to nominate him on the first ballot."

Some time earlier Director McKinley in a statement attacked the work of Col. Roosevelt and his managers.

"The desperate game which is being played," he declared, "is indicated by a statement issued by and credited to Clark Grier of Georgia, that five delegates from that state will desert Taft for Roosevelt. Mr. Grier is the mouthpiece only for himself, while the very delegates whose names he signs to his declaration for Mr. Roosevelt are not yet in Chicago, and since their departure for this city telegraphed they would obey their instructions and vote for President Taft."

Announcement of Timothy Woodruff made by E. A. Van Valkenburg of Philadelphia.

Markets

Iron and Steel Review.

By The Associated Press.

New York, June 16.—Several of the largest independent steel companies reported a falling off in business in finished steel products in the last week or ten days, but steel corporation subsidiaries continued to book business close to a rate of 45,000 tons per day in the aggregate.

Marine work placed and pending calls for about 20,000 to 2,000 tons of steel plates. The railroad placed contracts for 80,000 tons of rails. The Harriman lines will soon close for 12,000 additional cars; the Baltimore & Ohio will put 70,000 tons of steel for underframes for 14,000 cars.

Numerous small orders for steel buildings and steel bridges were booked, but the aggregate tonnage was only 12,000 tons. Bids were submitted, however, on about 30,000 additional. Small bridge orders were placed aggregating 2,600 tons.

Financial Review.

By The Associated Press.

New York, June 16.—The dullness and vacillation of the price movement in the stock market last week reflected the apprehension of receipts in the dealings, such as is usual between periods of speculative activity. There was enough in the news of the week of popular unrest and disturbances to sharpen the attention period to the direction of public policy towards corporations.

Riotous demonstrations in Perth Amboy and Boston were taken at more than local significance. What is considered a part of the same problem of the discontent with higher prices on the part of the consumer's voiced by mobs storming butcher shops and the formation of boycott leagues.

The dissatisfaction of borrowers with private conditions is shown in the resort to short-time temporary notes. A glut of capital issues is the complaint of the London, the Paris and the Berlin markets. The same condition is reflected in prices of standard government securities.

The government report, however, on grains had an effect of depression. The low condition of winter wheat, the likelihood of contraction in cotton acreage and delay in corn planting, however, leave hope unimpaired of offsetting advantages in later conditions and in other crops.

Cotton Review.

By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, June 16.—The cotton market this week promises interesting developments along the line of the marketing of the remnants of last season's crop. Bulls have recently taken the aggressive and the amount of cotton they have accumulated by their purchases in the futures market makes it imperative that they continue their aggressive operations this week.

The situation is such that likely the spot markets will attract fully as much attention as weather and crop news unless the latter should develop sensational features one way or another. The July position will be watched closely this week, as that option seems the center of the bullish extent, although the chief private crop reporting bureaus will not be made until next week. In connection with conditions in the belt the trade will give most weight to advices from Texas, Georgia and the Carolinas. In Texas and portions of Oklahoma rain is needed and the filling of this want will have a tendency to work against the price of the new crop; continued dry weather will stimulate purchasers. In the Atlantic states dry weather is needed and any moisture will help the bulls. The technical position of the market will begin to cause the trade concern this week especially if the advance is continued. Already bears have claimed the market is becoming too heavy and over bought, and any indications this week that this is true will result in short selling on expectations of a reaction from the long continued advance.

ANN CATHERINE QUILTS IN RIVAL'S FAVOR.

One of Sharp's Wives Departs for Oakland, Cal.

Special to The Morning News.
Pittsburg, Kan., June 16.—The efforts of Peter Sharp, a retired farmer here, to live in peace with two legal wives met final defeat yesterday when Ann Catherine Sharp, the first wife, gave up her attempt to dwell happily with Peter and Celia, the younger wife, and departed for Oakland, Cal., to live with friends.

Peter became separated from Ann Catherine during the great Chicago fire more than forty years ago. After thirty years' vain search for her he gave her up as dead and married Celia. Last summer, through the pension rolls of the war department, Ann Catherine found her husband. Sharp refused to cast off either wife and the three for some weeks dwelt amicably in one house.

Later Ann Catherine became dissatisfied and went to New Orleans to live with her son, but returned to Peter after a month's stay. Next Celia brought suit for divorce, but withdrew it a month ago, and so far as the public knew the three Sharps were in harmony until yesterday.

WOMAN PLANS FUNERAL. THEN SWALLOWS POISON.

Special to The Morning News.

New Orleans, June 16.—After making all financial arrangements for her funeral, a woman registered as Mrs. Ella Davis, aged 43, of St. Louis, Mo., went to her room in a prominent hotel here today and committed suicide by swallowing poison. She notified the coroner and an undertaker several days ago.

Mrs. Davis was the third successful suicide in attempts within five days in this city, according to the police records.

HARDY'S WOBBLY MACHINE HAD NO CHANCE

WITH A BUM SPARK PLUG AND SEVERAL MISSING SPOKES, HE IS OUTCLASSED.

Mechanic Foster of Fillman's Car Keeps It Going Like a Sewing Machine.

Driver Ellis Hardy had little chance to win the Sunday road race at Katy Park yesterday. His machine was wobbling on account of a defective spark plug or two, while several spokes were gone out of the left front wheel. Opposed to him was the big machine of Fillman, with a bright spark, perfect engine new tires and everything in fine order. Mechanic Foster of the Houston car kept it chugging over the route without missing a beat and, well, it wasn't even a good race.

With Allen and Rennard on the sick list and McLaurin out as usual on Sunday, the Navigators really did pretty well, opposed as they were to the full strength of the league leaders, and the score was closer than looked for by students of the game when they saw the two teams take the field.

Has Mean Disposition.
That Foster chap certainly has a mean disposition. He was not only stingy with his allowance of hits to the locals, but he took a great delight in striking Taff's delivery in the nose, and his hitting helped the Hlons take another toe-hold on first place.

Houston started getting safe in the first inning. After Knaupp and Fillman had gone out, Davis singled, stole second and scored on Newman's double down the third base line. In the Navigators' half of the same inning they tied it up with a lucky run. Duguey started off with a walk, was sacrificed off by Beck and went to third on Crichlow's infield out. Riley walked and he and Duguey worked a double steal for the first count.

Houston forged ahead in the second on an error, two hits and a near-error. After Landreth had gone out, Britton was safe on Beck's error. Allen hit a fast one to Beck who threw to second in plenty of time to catch Britton, but when Duguey snapped the ball to Wohlleben to complete the double, the first baseman grabbed it with one hand and didn't make a good grab. Foster and Knaupp then singled in succession, forcing Allen around for the second count.

Whiteman's Terrific Hit.
In the sixth Houston increased their lead when Britton was safe on Tanner's error, was sacrificed up by Allen and scored on Foster's third single. The visitors clinched the game in the eighth. With one down, Newman singled and Whiteman hit the ball over the left field fence for a circuit wallop. This was a remarkable hit in that it was square into the teeth of a thirty-mile breeze and must have been driven with terrific force.

With the score 5 to 1 against them, Stewart caused a little fluctuation in the locals' half of the seventh with a line drive over the right-field fence, but no Naves were on bases.

In the eighth, the locals threatened for a minute. Beck hit safe and Riley tried, for a long swipe to eighth street. The side wind, however, carried the ball wide and it landed on top of the club house, in foul territory. Riley finally forced Beck at second. Tanner hit a terrific clout square at Foster's head which he was lucky to duck, and, with two men on, the crowd had a faint hope that Wohlleben would duplicate Whiteman's feat. But he didn't.

Beck played a brilliant game in spite of his two errors, Landreth pulling a circus catch of a foul line drive, and Houston played a consistent fielding game. The locals had a bad break on their line hits, several of them being hit square at the opposing infielders.

Beaumont 5, Austin 4.
By The Associated Press.

Austin, Tex., June 16.—Umpire Jacobs made today's game a joke, but the team playing the better baseball won out. Beaumont defeated Austin 5 to 4. Austin had several excellent chances to score, but threw them away. There was continuous complaint against the decisions of Umpire Jacobs from both sides.

San Antonio 4, Dallas 3.
By The Associated Press.

Dallas, Tex., June 16.—San Antonio defeated Dallas here this afternoon in an exciting contest marked by some brilliant and some stupid fielding. Goodwin won his own game in the ninth inning when he drove a three-base hit against the right field fence and scored on Ledy's long sacrifice fly to center.

207 EGGS FOR EACH PERSON IS THE ESTIMATE MADE.

Hens of the United States Laid Nineteen Billion Last Year.

Special to The Morning News.
Washington, June 16.—Two hundred and seven eggs for every person in the United States were produced last year by the hens of the country, according to statistics prepared by the department of agriculture. The person who likes his "bacon and" every morning will note with interest that the hens seem to be improving, because in 1900 they produced only 203 per capita; in 1909 only 156, and in 1909, 109.

Then hens of the country laid 19,092,000,000 eggs last year. There might be one or two more or less, but the department thinks it is pretty nearly right. The average value was 19.3 cents a dozen, which may or may not be believed by the housekeeper.

"A good laying hen ought to produce 200 eggs a year," says the department.

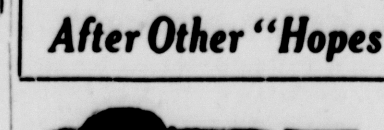

SAYS GUARDIAN WAS CRUEL.
Special to The Morning News.
San Francisco, June 16.—Loo Sung Woo, a 19-year-old Chinese girl said to be the adopted daughter of Mrs. J. Lee of Brattleboro, Vt., was taken in charge by immigration officials today on the arrival of the steamer Nile on the report of Captain F. G. P. Eckelson that Miss Loo had complained during the voyage of cruelty on the part of her guardian, Miss Charlotte Johnson.

Miss Johnson was taking the girl from the mission school in Shanghai to the Lee home.

According to the captain's report, the girl complained that she had been beaten repeatedly.

RISKS HIS LIFE FOR A DOG. Special to The Morning News. St. Louis, June 16.—What Superintendent Calvin J. White describes as one of the bravest feats he ever witnessed was performed at the city work house here yesterday by Arthur Wilson, 25 years old, who is serving a police court sentence for disturbing the peace of his wife. 17

White says Wilson descended 100 feet in the quarry on a rope, dangling at the end of it for several minutes until he lassoed and rescued a fox terrier. He was severely bitten by the animal. 17

The dog in trying to leap from the edge of the bluff to the wall of the workhouse fell into the quarry and lodged in a tree about 100 feet from the top and 150 feet from the bottom. Its whines attracted attention but no ladder long enough to reach it was at hand. 17

When Cupid Rocks the See-Saw :- Drawn Especially for The Morning News By Nell Brinkley

There are days when everything goes wrong, and one nothing right. Just the other day we experienced s. To begin with, we were "romped on" by one of st friends for something that went into the paper, when article in question was really a nice compliment to the gentleman, but for some unaccountable reason some one jollied him a bit about it, and he became angry because it was inserted, and proceeded thoughtlessly to say things that afterward he was sorry for. He finally apologized, but the things that he said, and the way that he said them, spoiled the whole day, and nothing went right that day. When a man has a real grievance, and he takes an opportunity to do a little "romping," it is all right; but when a friend misconstrues something and says things to hurt the feelings of one who has any fineness of feeling, he gets out of sorts, and perhaps does most everything during the day wrong. There are strenuous days in the newspaper business, and the patience of men are tried to the limit by just such things many times, and there are often days when everything is out of joint and nothing goes right. It is really wonderful how some people misconstrue the motives of newspapers, and accuse the editors of things they never dreamed of. There are few newspaper men of any prominence anywhere who would seek to do any man an injury in the paper, nor would desire to misrepresent the truth in any particular. Newspapers want to tell the truth at all times, and they want to be absolutely fair in their news columns. But some real smart people can not read English and understand just what a writer wishes to convey. When those days come when everything goes wrong, a newspaper man ought to be able to get away from his desk and go out in the country with a hook and line and catch a few fish. Nothing restores one's equilibrium so quickly and so thoroughly as communion with nature, and contact with those things that never lie and are never false.

Wealth belongs to the man who enjoys it; he who merely keeps it or hoards it just for the love of the money does not get any good out of it. Money that is not in circulation is of no benefit to any one, and that is why money should be deposited in banks so that it can be lent to those who need it and be put into the channels of trade. Lots of people accumulate money just for the love of knowing that they have it; they love to count their possessions, and listen to the clink of their gold and silver and feel the peculiar silkiness of paper bills. But the man who invests his money in something that will help other people, something that will give needy and deserving ones a chance to make a living, is the one who understands what money is really made for. Some men want money just because it brings with it power, and all mankind longs for power. Some people desire money that they may gratify their own desires, and have the things that they long for, while still others gather together all the cash that they can just to feel that they have it in their possession, and to know that they are rich, and, therefore, sought by certain people. But he who makes money a servant, using it for the general good of mankind, unselfishly affording pleasure, comforts and an opportunity to labor for those who need his help, is he who gets out of money its only true value, and that which produces real happiness.

At a baseball game today we saw an old man who must be at least 70 years of age, and he was having just as good a time as the young men who were sitting all about him. He rooted just like the rest, and he applauded when the home team made a point or whacked the ball till it flew to the fence. It is a good deal a matter of mind whether a person gets old or not. One can remain young in heart, though old in years, if they will take an interest in the things that are passing and join the young in their games and sports. There is no reason for moping and pining just because the hair is frosted with the passing of the years and because the steps are slower than those of youth. Go to the ball games and join in the shouting for the home team, and keep in touch with the active thought of the day. Age is really a matter of thought in many instances, and is not a question of years. The old gentleman in question will never be old; he will always be one of the boys, and he will pass out into the great beyond with a heart as young as a lad of sixteen, and, while he is old in years, he will be a beautiful example of cheerfulness. Everybody likes to be with him, because he never has a grouch, and he is not constantly reminding them of his age and the shortness of life.

There is no news just now as important as political news—the doings of the executive committees and the convention news. All eyes are now turned toward Chicago, and the central figure there is Theodore Roosevelt, who is about to break all precedent and who is attending the convention in order to secure his own nomination. What is this old world coming to? A real modest, retiring gentleman, no matter how intellectual he is, in this day and generation seems to have no chance in this strenuous game of politics. It is more like a battle royal, and a man has to have a constitution like iron to stand the strain of an ordinary campaign for a state office. This year the contest for presidential nomination between the Republicans has descended to a plane of a municipal campaign in the average city. And it is a shame that it is so. Men who indulge in such campaigns should be defeated, and men with more modesty should be chosen.

Business is rapidly coming to the point where no one can succeed in any business who is not "on the square" and who does not give value received for all that is spent with him. The man who is crooked in business can no longer succeed, for there has been a higher standard set, and business is now being conducted on entirely different principles to what it once was. The policy of treating everybody just alike, having no favorites in business, will win out if a business is conducted so that everyone who spends a dollar in the store gets a dollar's worth of genuine value.

It is a wonder to us how some men get along. Life is full of surprises. Men who seem dull and dense and stupid, by some trait peculiar to themselves, manage to make a fairly good success in life, accumulate a competency, and become of some importance in the community in which they live, while other men who are much brighter, and who seem much more qualified to do something in life, fail at the crucial moment, and are numbered among the human derelicts that are so numerous in this old world.

When a youth starts out to learn wisdom, the first thing that he reads in the book of life is that honesty is the foundation of all success and all happiness. No dishonest man can enjoy the true blessings of happy living who is not only willing to give every man his money to a cent, but who is also willing to give him every kind word that belongs to him and every friendly greeting that he should have each day.

Nature has made all men different so as to have a distinguishing feature and an individuality, and to avoid monotony. No two people are just exactly alike, and no two people think alike about any one thing. It is well that it is so, for the All Wise Creator knows what He is doing, and He knows what is best to forward His great eternal plan.

Any man is foolish to do anything that he does not want known, for it is utterly impossible to do anything secretly. Somehow the deeds that men do and the lives that they lead leak out, and finally a man is known for just what he really is. It is therefore very important for every person to guard well what he does at all times and in all places.

No man is so wise that he does not at some time do foolish things. No head contains all the wisdom, and no one has judgment so faultless that he will at all times act with caution and wisdom.

WIND AND RAIN STORM BREAKS UP AERO DERBY.

Roland Garros Only One to Complete First Day's Conditions, About 300 Miles.

By The Associated Press.
Angers, France, June 16.—A heavy rain and wind of hurricane force contributed today to the practical failure of the Aero clubs grand prix, worth $10,000, known as the Aviation derby. Seven of thirty-five machines started on the distance of 683 miles, or seven times around a triangle from Angers to Cholet, to Saumur to Amers. The conditions provided that three of the laps must be completed today, and the other four tomorrow. Only one, piloted by Roland G. Garros, completed the three laps before the time gun at 7:30 p. m. His total time was seven hours and fifty-six minutes. Legaigneux and Rene Bedel smashed their machines, but escaped unhurt. The committee decided to hold an extra contest of three laps tomorrow. Two prizes are offered of $5,000 each.

TWO KILLED BY STORM.

Many Hurt and Property Damaged Heavy in East.

By The Associated Press.
Pittsburg, Pa., June 16.—At least two were killed, a number hurt and much property damaged by a severe electrical and wind storm which swept western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio and West Virginia today. Only meager details are available.

YELLOW FEVER IN MEXICO.

By The Associated Press.
Washington, June 16.—Two new cases of yellow fever have appeared in San Juan Bautista, the capital of Tabasco, Mexico, according to an official report to the state department.

COUNTY DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE TO MEET.

A meeting of the McLennan county democratic executive committee has been called to meet at the city hall this afternoon for the purpose of making up the ballot. Assessments will also be levied upon candidates, and any other business as may come before the committee will be transacted. The meeting conforms with the requirements of the new election laws. Circulars calling attention to the meeting have been mailed to members of the committee in different parts of the county by Chairman E. C. Street.

STRAWBERRIES PROVE FATAL.

By The Associated Press.
York, Pa., June 16.—The eating of too many strawberries caused the death last night at the York hospital of Maurice Hull, 23 years old, a son of George Hull of Hanover. Death took place following an operation for constipation of the bowels. The young man's parents had started on a trip to the west shortly before he became sick and they were not aware of his critical condition.

REBEL AND FEDERAL.

By The Associated Press.
Chihuahua, June 16.—Shooting today between outposts of the federal and rebel at La Cruz, 80 miles south of Chihuahua, the rebel stronghold, resulted in a loss to the government of 11 and the rebels two dead, according to reports tonight to General Orozco's headquarters here.

Local News Notes

Misses Myrtle, Lois and Master Jim Lee left Saturday for an extended visit to their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Poteet, of Salado, Tex.

Judge M. B. Harris, candidate for attorney general, spent Sunday in Waco at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. B. Goldwaite.

William A. Green, of Post-Green Company, left last night for Austin to be in attendance at the opening of the federal court. While in Austin Mr. Green will close one of the largest transfers of ranch property made in this section this year.

Frank Battle, secretary of the local order of Beavers, was called to San Antonio last night, to be at the bedside of his mother, who will undergo an operation tomorrow.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.
Waxahachie, Tex., June 14.
Mr. Clifton H. Tupper, Waco, Tex.
My Dear Sir: I beg pardon for my apparent presumption in addressing you this letter, but having kept a close watch on the progress of the Waco Morning News, both in popularity among the business men of Waco and in your mechanical equipment, I am constrained to offer you congratulations. I have read the comments on the installation of your new press in yesterday's issue with extreme delight, and have made editorial note of it. Yours very truly,
JNO. P. COOPER,
Editor The Herald.

CAN'T USE LEE'S NAME ON LIQUOR BOTTLES.

Special to The Morning News.
Montgomery, Ala., June 16.—Robert E. Lee's name cannot be used on liquor bottles in Alabama. Commissioner of Agriculture R. F. Kolb has refused to rescind the action of the pure food department in prohibiting the sale of that brand of whiskey. He has written a letter to the manufacturer of the whiskey that the brand will never again be sold in Alabama with the consent of his department.

Kolb's letter was written in answer to a communication requesting the state to permit the brand to be disposed of again. The Confederate veterans at Macon, Ga., recently passed a resolution introduced by Commissioner Kolb condemning the sale of liquor in the south that bore the name of Robert E. Lee. In his letter, the official stated that he was a Confederate soldier and that he had too deep a reverence for Lee to allow his name to be used as a liquor advertisement.

SPLENDID SERVICE AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN.

A rousing service is reported at the Central Christian church on yesterday morning. Quite a number of accessories to the church and many lives consecrated to special service in response to an appeal by the pastor were the features of unusual rejoicing. Pastor Colby D. Hall announced that a protracted meeting would be begun on the lawn of the church on next Sunday. He will do the preaching himself, and arrangements are being made for some unusually fine singing.

TEXAS T. R.'ERS PROTEST.

Declare National Committee's Action Highway Robbery.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, June 16.—The Roosevelt Texas delegates held a protest meeting during the afternoon, their ranks being swelled by Roosevelt boosters from various parts of the state. They characterized the action of the national committee in giving 28 of the Texas delegates to Taft as "highway robbery of the worst description," and declared they would fight to get them back through every possible means.

Coincidentally the Taft bureau put out a statement on the Texas cases. It gave an outline of the Texas situation and took a shot at Col. Cecil A. Lyon, the national committeeman, by saying that "he has deliberately and purposely driven the colored man from politics. Not being satisfied with democratic legislation against the colored man, Lyon has himself taken a hand and endeavored to build up a purely white party. At these primaries just held he issued circular letters advising that negroes be not allowed to vote."

WRESTLING MATCH; MAY ARRANGE FOR MATCH.

Scotty McMerdo, who says he doesn't bar any 145-pound man in the world, is in the city looking up the prospects of reviving interest in the sport game here. Scotty is a well-known welterweight and just now is engaged in trying title to his claim of being the champion of Texas in his class.

DMK STRIKE IN ENGLAND IS CONFIRMED TO LONDON.

By The Associated Press.

London, June 16.—The dock strike is now confined to London and Southampton. The strike has been so weakened in London that the port authorities have decided to issue notices inviting the strikers to return to work.

CONGRESS FACES DULL SPELL.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, June 16.—Congress will be in almost a total eclipse during the next fortnight. The senate, perfectly meeting a few minutes every third day, will transact no business. The house may pass the sundry civil appropriation bill tomorrow.

GREEK SCHOLAR MEN.

By The Associated Press.

Cambridge, Mass., June 16.—Wm. Watson Goodwin, professor emeritus of Greek literature at Harvard University, and one of the best known Greek scholars in this country, died at his home in Cambridge last night, aged 81 years.

STORM DAMAGES ST. LOUIS.

By The Associated Press.

St. Louis, June 16.—A rain storm coming almost to a cloudburst broke over this city at 6 o'clock this morning and continued unabated until 6 tonight. The river Dan River is out of its banks, and more damage was done than during any storm in recent years.
